Submitting an application does not guarantee placement as a volunteer. Candidates will be accepted on the library's needs matched with the candidate's qualifications to meet those requirements as determined during the selection process. Incomplete applications will not be considered for review. If there is a suitable volunteer opportunity available at the time your application is submitted, you will be contacted by the Library Director. An interview and reference check will be required before any candidate can begin an assignment. All applications will be kept on file for one year from date of application.
