Elves for Elders Program

On Tuesday, November 10th, the Elves for the Elders Christmas tree ornaments are expected to arrive at the Library. You can select an ornament off the tree to help provide a local senior citizen with a very Merry Christmas. Each ornament represents a local elder neighbor in need and their wish list. You do not have to buy everything off the list, and it is just a suggested list. You can purchase whatever your heart tells you to.

If you do not wish to select an ornament, but wish to participate, you can donate an item (or two) so that elders whose ornaments that were not selected, or returned, can still get gifts for Christmas.

Community Christmas Tree

Community Christmas Tree by St. Anne's Episcopal Church is an outreach for local families with kids (preschool through high school) who need help providing Christmas cheer. Starting on Monday, November 16th, the Library will start collecting new and gently used items on behalf of St. Anne's to support their mission of helping local families during the holiday season.

Celebrate Fibonacci Day at the Library! 1, 1, 2, 3... Let's count it up!

November 23rd (11/23) is Fibonacci Day, named for the first four numbers of one of math's most famous patterns: 1, 1, 2, 3. The rule is simple: add the two numbers before to get the next one (1, 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, 13, 21...). Leonardo of Pisa made the sequence famous in his 1202 book Liber Abaci, though mathematicians in India had discovered it centuries earlier. Look closely and you'll find it everywhere in nature: the spirals of sunflowers and pinecones, flower petals, seashells, and even hurricanes! Join the J. Robert Jamerson Memorial Library for three weeks of hands-on math, art, and discovery starting Monday, November 2, ending with a special celebration on Fibonacci Day, Monday, November 23!

Part of the Infinite Sums program, made possible by the Simons Foundation, SciStarter, and the Association for Rural & Small Libraries.
